Learn about Notre Dame's Society of Women Engineers

The Society of Women Engineers (SWE) at Notre Dame is a community that seeks to support the current women engineering students on campus. Members find role models in upperclassmen as well as the professional women that partner with us, helping them develop both personally and professionally. They also work to encourage the next generation, partnering with several organizations to mentor young girls interested in engineering. The women of SWE are the leaders of tomorrow, and we would love to have you!
